

The Elements of Love

May your Love be like the earth
Rich, natural, and deeply rooted
Strong as rock yet soft as sand
Always growing
And always patient
May your Love be like fire
Passionate, intense, and energetic
A flame that never dies
As radiant as the morning sun
And as warm as an evening embrace
May your Love be like water
Moving, constantly changing
Never still, never stagnant
As vast as the ocean
And as fresh as a spring's rain
May your Love be like air
The sharing of dreams, thoughts, and emotions
Always fragrant, always carefree
Found in the breeze of a whisper,
Or in the breath of a kiss

May your Love be like all four elements physically, emotionally, mentally and spiritually intertwined
To create the perfect balance,
And to craft the perfect ribbon
For to bind these two hearts into one
